Software developer, tech. consultant & tech. mentor,
A true believer of worldwide distributed teams.

“Brieuc is a great full-stack developer that is equally equipped to handle back-end and front-end development. He has a passion for his field and is constantly keeping himself up to date and learning new skills. Brieuc is very organized and professional and is eager to help the organization find ways to work efficiently together, and is truly a team-player. Through his role as CTO, he also helped us set up a tech team, and built a structure that kept his team on track and motivated.

On a personal level, Brieuc was highly appreciated by his colleagues, much because of his transparency, value-based mindset, and his ability to show empathy. Rumour says he is also a great surfer” - Nicholas Hoddevik
